

Please Proof Test Safely

VERI5000™ requires the user to read the manual in its entirety prior to use of the equipment. User should wear appropriate personal protective equipment when performing a proof-test. After each proof test a Competent Person or person who has been trained as a Competent Equipment Inspector must inspect the equipment for cracking, breaking, or permanent deformation of the structure and equipment (OSHA 1910.66 and 1926.502) If the Equipment Inspector or Competent Person is inspecting another manufacturer's product that he or she has not been trained on, they must refer to the manufacturer's instruction manual for the proper inspection of the anchor. Some anchors may deform during a proof-test and still hold, therefore meeting their intended purpose. Please consult the Manufacturer of the anchor with any questions on the product and as always, remove any deformed anchors from use. When choosing what to proof-test to, picking the lowest force that meets the requirements will greatly reduce the risk of breaking, cracking or deforming anchors. Pulling anchors to the maximum of 5000lbs may deform the anchor. VERI5000 and or Hydrajaws are not responsible for any damage to the structure being tested.

Returns: Both Authorization and a Return Number must be issued by VERI5000 on all returns. Only unused kits with a purchase date of six (6) months or less will be considered for return. Authorized returns will only be accepted for credit toward future purchases from VERI5000, less a minimum 15% restocking charge or other handling charges, or costs. All returns must be shipped to VERI5000 freight prepaid.
